PRESS RELEASE

PLANET SMART CITY COMPLETES GROUP REBRAND

Planet Smart City, the global leader in smart affordable housing, today announces a comprehensive rebrand of its corporate identity, website, logo and tagline to reflect its evolution and future vision.

As part of the rebrand, the Group, which previously operated under Planet Idea, Planet Holding Ltd and SG Desenvolvimento, will now communicate to stakeholders under a single name: Planet Smart City. The rebrand also consists of a newly launched website, which will host corporate news and projects, details of its smart solutions catalogue, and insightful articles.

The new brand identity showcases Planet Smart City's continued commitment to transforming the way affordable housing is delivered worldwide. This vision has been reflected through a new tagline, 'Places That Matter', which illustrates its mission to design and build smart affordable neighbourhoods that foster community relationships among the city's residents.

Giovanni Savio, Co-Founder and Global CEO of Planet Smart City commented: "Since we launched in 2015, Planet Smart City has grown rapidly in terms of size, activity and global operations, thanks to the expertise of our international teams and the confidence of our investors. Our brand identity is an important aspect of the business, representing who we are and what we stand for. We believe the rebrand not only strengthens and modernises how we operate but enables us to better position ourselves when communicating our message and vision to key stakeholders."
